Free Zone Company Formation Dubai

The establishment of free trade zones (FTZs) in the UAE has been one of the most significant and promising initiatives taken to attract foreign investment. Dubai was the first emirate to establish a FTZ, with the Jebel Ali FTZ.

The general benefits of being located in a FTZ are set out below:

- 100 percent foreign ownership allowed
- No restrictions on profit repatriation
- No exchange controls
- A guarantee of no corporate and personal income taxes from set up
- Availability of offices, factory premises and warehouses
- Excellent port, airport and road transport infrastructure
- Efficient utilities and modes of communication
- No import or export duties - except from sales from FTZs into the UAE and the GCC
- No recruitment restrictions, and special assistance in obtaining work permits for expatriate staff
- Streamlined procedures: all formalities are typically dealt with through the free zone authorities instead of the various government departments
- Guarantee for 15-50 years against the future imposition of corporation tax
- [Please note the guarantee will not provide exemption against an imposition of VAT, which is due to be imposed across the UAE & GCC from 2018]
- No restrictions on hiring expatriates

In recent years Dubai has seen a dramatic rise in the number FTZs being created, with each zone focused on a particular type of industry.

Some of the many free zones within Dubai are listed below:

- Jebel Ali Free Zone (JAFZA);
Specialising in manufacturing, heavy industry and distribution, but also encompasses:
 - the Dubai Cars and Automotive Zone: dealing in the re-export of automobiles
 - the Dubai Gold and Diamond Park: dealing in precious metals and stones
- Dubai Airport Freezone (DAFZA);
Dealing in light industry, assembly, distribution, & service industries

- Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC);

This free zone focuses on the financial institutions and financial service firms. This zone is subject to a comprehensive regulatory regime that follows international standards. (The regulatory authority in the DIFC is the Dubai Financial Services Authority)

Other FTZs in Dubai include:

- Dubai Aid and Humanitarian City
- Dubai Techno Park
- Dubai Auto Parts City
- Dubai Textile City, Heavy Equipment and Trucks Free Zone
- Dubai Flower Centre Free Zone
- Dubai Carpet Free Zone
- Dubai Outsource Zone
- Dubai Design District
- Dubai Healthcare City
- Dubai International Academic City
- Dubai Internet City
- Dubai Knowledge Village
- Dubai Media City
- Dubai Multi Commodities Centre (DMCC)
- Dubai Silicon Oasis
- International Media Production Zone
- Dubai Production City

- Dubai Studio City

The main disadvantages as compared to operating as a local business are that due to being restricted to only being able to lease real estate in the Free Zone where your business is incorporated, rent often becomes more expensive than outside the free zones and it is not possible to supply goods directly to the local market.

Goods can be supplied to the local market through a local commercial agency, which has to be majority owned by a UAE national and after paying the import duty (usually 5 percent). The practice is to allow the provision of services through a free zone entity to the local market as long as a significant proportion of the turnover is realised abroad.

The free zones each have their own free zone authority. They are profit-making entities, where their main source of income derives from renting office space, collecting license fees, and providing services to the companies operating in the free zone.

All share the features outlined previously, but differ along the following lines:

- The focus of the free zone company formation - free zones often focus on attracting businesses from a particular sector or industry and therefore choice of free zone is restricted accordingly (although there is still considerable flexibility, as some free zones do not have a particular focus)
- Most licenses have a minimum office space requirement, which usually depends on the amount of visas required
- Support facilities are generally provided by the free zone
- Trade license fees have to be renewed annually
- The paperwork involved in forming the business can be demanding
- Minimum capital requirements must be met in certain circumstances

Although financial statements don't necessarily need to be submitted to all of the free zone authorities annually, with the implementation of VAT being introduced in January 2018 and a threshold of US$ 100,000, financial statements will have to be submitted for this purpose anyway.
